

ADVENTISTS HEAR TREASURER REPORT

Working of General Conference
Fund Explained—Finances
in Sound Condition.

Explanation of the working of the general conference treasury of the Seventh Day Adventists, now in session at Takoma Park, by Treasurer W. T. Knox, was the feature of the meeting today. The conference settled down to business early this morning. The first of a series of departmental meetings was opened. The secretary of the publishing department, N. Z. Town, with the managers of the leading publishing houses of the denomination, together with about 100 field representatives, discussed problems of this important work.

The treasury department, Mr. Knox explained, is divided into four divisions—the administrative and departmental work of the general conference; the work of the large cities of North America, where conferences have not sufficient strength to care for them properly; the many foreign nationalities settling in the East; and the work of the United States, those organized fields other than North America, and the great divisions of the world designated under the general term of heathen lands, such as India, China, and the like.

Funds Meet Big Demands.
The expanding work of the denomination is making tremendous demands on the funds, Mr. Knox declared. But these have been increased to meet the demand, he said, and gave a report on the sound financial standing of the denomination.

Something like 25 per cent of the tithes given in the United States are passed on directly by the general conference for the support of mission work in the great mission fields, the treasurer said. He showed that the organized conferences in European nations, Egypt, Siberia, Syria, Palestine, Iceland, Morocco, Algeria, Germany, East Africa, Australia, New Zealand and the South Sea Islands are supporting and are assisting in sending large amounts to remote mission fields. The Sabbath schools, he said, are turning their donations to foreign fields. These amount to more than $2,000 a year.

Order of Services.
There are about 3,000 delegates present. Services have been arranged as follows: Devotional meetings (in sections), 6 to 6:45 a. m.; breakfast, 7 a. m.; Bible study, 8:30 to 9:30 a. m.; conference, 10 a. m. to 12 m.; dinner, 12:15 p. m.; conference, 2:30 to 4 p. m.; department meetings and missionary talks, 4:30 to 5:30 p. m.; luncheon, 6 p. m.; public preaching services, 7:30 to 8 p. m.

The Bible study this morning was conducted by Elder S. N. Haskell, of Maine. Elder G. E. Bow, of Iowa, will make the principal address tonight at the public preaching service.

WILSON WOULD MAKE CAPITAL MODEL CITY

Delay in Naming Commissioners Necessitated By His Desire to Get Best Men.

A model form of government for Washington, and one to be presided over and governed by local men—men familiar in detail with local conditions—is what President Wilson hopes to install in the District of Columbia. The President has delayed appointing two new members of the Board of District Commissioners thus far, with this end in view. He is going over the list of eligible candidates for the two positions, with minute care. He is going to appoint two men to fill the vacancies who will work in harmony with his scheme to make the municipal government of this city one which other American cities will endeavor to pattern after.

This information was given out by President Wilson last evening, and explains the long delay in designating the personnel of the new board.

City Should Rule Itself.
Washington should be self-governed, the President thinks. He will take steps toward giving the city the form of government which it long since has recognized it is entitled to until the new board is appointed and its members tried out. When he appoints a new board, or two new members on the present board, these appointments will represent a step to be taken by the President in his aim to give to Washington a model form of self-government.

The new board should be named soon. Press of business, it is understood, has prevented the President's appointing new members. As much time as he can spare he is devoting to the study of the qualifications of the various candidates. The applications and endorsements of such have been carefully gone over. The list has been carefully edited by Secretary Tumulty, and already has been placed in the hands of the President. How many names have been crossed off the list only can be conjectured.

Has Ideas or Changes.
The President, it is understood, believes that several things at present existing in the District government should be changed. If the new Board of Commissioners cannot right these wrongs, then, it is generally understood, Mr. Wilson will have his influence in having a new form of government substituted. He wants to make of Washington a model city, first for the residents that live here and then as a National Capital.

It is believed that the new board will be appointed with the next few weeks.

Nature Man After Few-Clothes Bride

SAN FRANCISCO, May 15.—Ernest Darling, a back to nature man, who lived eight years in Tahiti, is back in his native California today to start on a world search for a woman who shares his beliefs in nature, diet and marriage by contract. The last named he regards as the only sensible style of wedding.

Darling obtained a small banana plantation near Tahiti and managed to live from its products. He ate only fruits, vegetables and nuts, and wears in the tropics only a loin cloth. Here he wears a sweater and knickerbockers without shoes or hat.

SENATOR JAMES ON FREE SUGAR CLAUSE

Kentucky Senator Makes Attack on Ransdell in Maiden Speech in Senate.

Senator Ollie James of Kentucky, in his maiden speech in the Senate, opened the debate on the tariff bill in the upper house when that body met at 11 o'clock this morning. With the Senate under agreement to vote at 4 o'clock this afternoon on the question of referring the bill to the Finance Committee, and on the question of hearings, the discussion centered at the outset about the sugar schedule.

Senator James opened a hot fire on Senator Ransdell of Louisiana and replied to arguments against free sugar made by Mr. Ransdell. Senator James especially insisted that free sugar was not in contravention of the Baltimore platform as alleged by Senator Ransdell.

A large crowd filled the galleries, especially the upper galleries, and was entertained by the sharp exchange between the junior Kentucky Senator and Senator Ransdell.

Defends Free Sugar.
Mr. James read from the hearings on sugar before the Ways and Means Committee to prove that the Louisiana sugar interests were not "cut off with forty-five minutes," as Senator Ransdell had said. Mr. James showed they had been given an hour and a half. He cited Mr. Ransdell's own testimony, not delay, said Senator James, alluding to the efforts of the sugar interests to force extended hearings. "I am here to defend my statement that the platform endorsed a free-sugar policy. He cites my friend Mr. Broussard against me. I trust I may be pardoned for not taking my interpretation of Democratic doctrine from Mr. Broussard. He voted for the Dingley bill and for the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill, and I prefer to go elsewhere for my ideas of Democratic principles."

Senator James went on at considerable length to prove his point that free sugar was upheld by the Baltimore platform. He pointed out that the platform specifically endorsed the action of the House of the last Congress, and that it was well known the House had passed a free sugar bill.

Ransdell's Attitude.
Senator Ransdell, in the course of the discussion, broke in to say that he was willing to have free sugar, if everything else was put on a free-trade basis.

To this Senator James replied: "Oh, no, the Senator can hardly take that position. He is under promise not to vote for free sugar in any form."

In closing, Senator James said he spoke as he did not in anger, but bearing in mind the Biblical statement, "Whom the Lord loveth he chasteneth." The speech of Senator James was followed by a speech of Senator Norris on coffee valorization. Debate on the tariff bill until 4 o'clock, and then it is expected the bill will be referred without requiring hearings.

MOBILE, Ala., May 15.—A ship load of mobile merchants left here this morning for a tour of Central America, where they go in the interest of an important entering and importing business. Arrangements have been made for them to meet the merchants of the principal cities in the southern republics.

PLAN FUNERAL OF REALTY AUTHORITY

Former Tax Assessor, Killed By Fall, Will Be Buried in Rock Creek Cemetery.

Funeral services for Hopewell Hebb Darnelle, former tax assessor of the District and authority on local realty values, who was killed by a fall last night, will be held from his late home, 324 Ordway street, Cleveland Park, D. C., tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Burial will be private, in Rock Creek Cemetery.

The Rev. James MacBride Sterrett, rector of All Souls' Episcopal Mission, will officiate at the services, and the pallbearers will be John G. Capers, Henry Litchfield West, William F. Richards, Douglas Simms, Gen. Charles F. Humphrey, and George W. Ingham.

Mr. Darnelle's death came less than five minutes after he fell in the rear driveway of his home, about 8 o'clock. He was descending the steps to the basement door when he stumbled and fell, his head striking on the stone steps with fatal force. Death was due to concussion of the brain.

Mrs. Darnelle, who was only recently discharged from a hospital where she underwent a serious operation in the course of a nervous collapse from the shock and grief of the tragedy.

Hopewell H. Darnelle was probably the best informed man on property values in the District of Columbia. Regarded as an expert he was chosen one of the committee of three appointed to determine the value of the Southern building in the recent insurance investigation. He gave important testimony before the District Committee of the House of Representatives during the investigation.

Funeral services for Jay Wellington Chapman, a manufacturer and retired banker, of Detroit, Mich., will be conducted at 2 o'clock tomorrow.
